Emergency Preparedness
A 4-hour Course on December 3, 2003 from 8:00 AM to Noon
WSHA Annual Conference, Wenatchee Convention Center Blossom Harvest Room

The demands of emergency response and disaster preparedness to large-scale events such as fire, threat of terrorism, and chemical release (such as ammonia) require a coordinated approach. This course presents information on emergency action and response plans, sheltering in place, evacuation, offensive and defensive actions, working with local responders, and ICS/IMS systems. The cost of the course is $80.

Instructors:

J. Patrick Johnson,

Kem Russell, PE
Member of International Institute of Ammonia Refrigeration Safety and Code Committees. Member of several IIAR Task Force groups preparing emergency response and preparedness materials, videos, IIAR bulletins and publications, and technical paper review. Speaker at IIAR and RETA annual meetings. Facilitator for Yakima County Search & Rescue Ground and Tracking Teams. Active member of Yakima County Local Emergency Planning Committee. Vice President of Engineering for Doubl-Kold.

Name: _________________________________________________________________________________________

Company: _____________________________________________________________________________________

Address: _______________________________________________________________________________________

City: __________________________________  State: _____________________  Zip: ______________________

Phone: ________________________________  Fax: __________________________________________________

E-mail: ________________________________________________________________________________________

Please make checks payable to: WSHA
Return this registration form to: WSHA, PO Box 136, Wenatchee WA 98807